

Belief of ANY Kind Generally Becomes Toxic.

Now I NOTICE that POTENTIALITY and AWARENESS exist, but after that, it's all a movie, and becoming obsessed with any particular movie, when ones sees that one is UNBOUNDED, is a negative thing.

Once you gain FREEDOM (nobody can say that you aren't aware that things cannot possibly exist) and you throw off all that societal, religious, spiritual TWADDLE, then you get that 10,000-foot-tall ego that I talk about with my closest friends.

Well, anyway, I don't 'believe' in 'God' either. There's no need to believe or not believe in such a human thought construct.

It's called freedom from Atheism, Agnosticism and Theism.

Now many would call that 'Agnosticism', but it's not.

It's freedom from Agnosticism too.

Whether I gain more information or lose information about a proposed deity or do not, it's all the same to me.

In POTENTIALITY the movies are displayed in infinite numbers of ways, and 'god' or 'not god' is just a ludicrous question, a logical category error in Platonic Surrealism.

Fighting for, or fighting against any belief builds your false self, your persona, which keeps you prisoner, as you attempt to keep it stable, while 'the world' attacks it 24x7/x365, keeping you a prisoner from your True Self, that being UNBOUNDEDNESS.
